DELAYED BY FLOOD ON RETURN TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Owen L. Carr Pass Through High Water District in Mississippi Valley.

RETURN FROM TEXAS RANCH

Train Held at Fulton, Ky., Two Days and in Tennessee a Day and a Half.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen L. Carr have arrived home from Texas, after a trip through the flood-swept district in the Mississippi valley. They passed through the very worst of the flood and were delayed on their journey at least three days by the high waters.

Mr. Carr says that the Mississippi is playing havoc with property and people all along the valley, especially in the States of Kentucky and Tennessee. Rushville people have been reading accounts of the disaster in newspapers, but Mr. Carr says that it is impossible to realize how great a disaster it really is until one is in the district where the high water is raging.

Mr. and Mrs. Carr came back by way of Shreveport, Louisiana, and Vicksburg, Tennessee. They were delayed two days at Fulton, Kentucky, and a day and a half between Greenville and Vicksburg. Fortunately, Mr. Carr said, there were plenty of provisions on the train, and the passengers did not suffer any by the delay.

All the passengers could do was to remain in the car. It was impossible to get out, unless they cared to wade or go canoeing. They saw nothing but devastation on every hand. Thousands of acres were inundated by the flooding waters and whole towns were almost covered with water. Eight people have been drowned, six thousand have been made homeless and eight thousand have fled from the flood threatened territory, and the property loss due to the flood will run into the millions.

The train on which Mr. and Mrs. Carr were coming north was held at Fulton, Kentucky, for two days, because the water got so high it was dangerous to proceed. Mr. Carr says there was a cloud burst at Fulton the night before their train arrived which accounted for the delay there. He says the rain came down in torrents, and on the morning their train arrived, water stood several feet deep in all of the houses and business rooms of the town.

All along the line it was necessary to stop the train at intervals, according to Mr. Carr, and clear debris from the track before the train could go on. In these places the water had receded and left large timbers across the track.

It was dangerous for the train to travel at a very fast rate of speed because of the liability of the tracks being washed away. All of the railroads in the valley, he says, are guarding against accidents.

Mr. Carr says that farmers of Rush county will not worry if they consider the plight of southern farmers. He says that not one crop has been planted in the Mississippi valley outside of western Texas. He says this is due to the long season of wet weather which has prevailed there.

Mr. and Mrs. Carr were returning from Texas, where they have been visiting on their ranch for several days.

MYSTERY OF THE CORPSE

Train Crew Starts to Unload it at St. Paul—Disappeared.

St. Paul is excited over a baffling mystery. C. E. Hudgell, the telegraph operator at that place, received a wire saying that the Knickerbocker had a corpse on it for St. Paul and would stop there. When the train crew went into the baggage car to get the body, it could not be found. No one can account for the mystery. The body was to come from California.

NEW MANSE, EARLY FUTURE PROSPECT

Expressions of Confidence and Hope at Annual Congregational Meeting of 1st Presbyterian Church.

REPORT ON DEPARTMENTS

The annual congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian church, held in the parlors of the church last night was fairly well attended. The reports made from the different departments of church work were heard with much interest, all showing extremely satisfactory results for the year which closed March 31, 1912. That of the Men's Bible class was perhaps the most gratifying, the year just closed being the first since its organization.

The annual report to the spring meeting of Presbytery to be held at Cambridge City next week is one of the best in the history of the church. One of the probabilities of the near future is a new manse.

The pastor, the Rev. J. B. Meacham, expressed keen appreciation of the hearty co-operation given him in his pastoral work and spoke feelingly of the very pleasant relations existing between pastor and people. His words were full of encouragement and commendation.

The Indians of our country are not "a vanishing race." The latest official census places them at 322,000 as against 270,000 ten years ago.

VOTE TO ABIDE BY HOBBLE RULING

Secretaries of Southeastern Indiana
Fair Association Agree Not to Reject Stringent Order.

MEETING IS AT GREENSBURG

Local Secretary and Director in Attendance—5-Year-Olds Under Hobble Ban This Year.

Will L. King, secretary of the Rush County Fair Association, and E. O. Hume, a director, returned last evening from Greensburg, where they attended the meeting of the secretaries of the Southeastern Indiana Fair Association. Although the local association was recently incorporated in the Northeastern Indiana Fair Association circuit, it will retain its standing in the association with which it has been associated for a number of years. The dates assigned the local fair in each circuit do not conflict.

The meeting was called primarily to discuss the hobble ruling of the American Trotting Association, under whose rules the races in most fair circuits are conducted. The secretaries voted to abide by the action of the parent organization, even though they are opposed to the plan, because they believe it will work a hardship on the small fair races.

Another rule of the association which will govern in the races here is that known as the "point system." By it the standing of the horses in a race, and the awards of the purses will be made according to the points scored by the horses in the whole race, rather than by their heat position. Heretofore, for example, a horse holding 8-8-2 would be given second money over one standing 3-3-3. Under the new rule the result would be reversed and the latter named would take second money.

This year the rule, which is graduated and includes the horses in a year older class each succeeding year, will bar the four-year-olds from wearing hobbles. Next year five-year-olds will come under the ban, and so the rule will work for years until every age of race horse will be included in the order.

The small fair circuits would like to draw away from the parent association and conduct their own races, but it would be impolitic, according to the local secretary, because races would be recognized, and marks made by horses would not stand if the races were not conducted under the rules of the American Trotting Association.

That the fairs would rather withdraw from the parent body, is proved by the fact that the Southeastern Indiana Fair Association voted at a meeting previous to the one yesterday to kick out of the American Trotting Association, on account of the hardships of the hobble ruling. The vote yesterday, however, rescinded the previous vote, and the races of the circuit will still be conducted under the American Association's rules. No four-year-olds in hobbles will be seen on the Rush county track at the coming fair.

The meeting also discussed the question of holding night fair, concessions, etc. Buck Skin Ben was present and made a proposition to the association to put his attractions on the various grounds.

W. H. Knight of Chicago, secretary of the American Trotting Association, Charles Downing of Indianapolis, secretary of the Indiana State fair, and Fred Terry of Indianapolis, one of the editors of the Western Horseman attended the meeting, with the purpose of explaining the reason of the new hobble rule, and in the

WOMEN MAY HELP WITH PARK PLAN

Federation of Clubs is Thing Much to be Desired, According to Some Men.

WOULD BE IN FORCE IN CITY

Such an Organization, it is Pointed Out, Could Use Influence For Civic Improvement

The women of Rushville can do much in a campaign to beautify Rushville. Already a small band of women have shown what they can accomplish by arranging to plant 150 trees in the city park. They are being complimented on all sides for this effort to arouse all of Rushville to the need of improving the dreary waste of land which is known as the city park.

There has been considerable talk of late of federating the women's clubs of Rushville. It is agreed that they should be a force in the city which would have to be reckoned with, should they set their heads to land an improvement of any sort.

It is taken by common consent that, if once federated, they could do nothing worthier or of more benefit to Rushville people as a whole than to launch a campaign to improve the city. The Daughters of the American Revolution have already taken the lead in such a campaign and all that is needed is the earnest support of the sister clubs in an effort that will bring renown to them and their city.

Women's clubs have worked wonders in other cities. They have in many places taken up civic problems and solved them with a directness that has surprised some of the men who have been accustomed to running the city along in the same old rut.

The announcement that plans are afoot to federate the women's clubs has been received with delight by some men. They appreciate the value of women who are organized and determined. They can do marvelous things in a city—and the best adjunct to their achievements is that they do the thing that redounds to the city's credit and make it a better city.

It has been shown that, besides solving the park question, the federated women's clubs of Rushville might make Rushville a cleaner and better city. Rushville once had a clean-up day and she appeared to like it very well. Since that time it has been impossible to persuade the powers that be that such a thing is even a luxury, let alone a necessity.

Doubtless women of Rushville organized could bring a clean-up day to pass if they went after it with the intention of winning. Efforts in the past to induce Mayor Black to order a general cleaning up of the city have been without avail.

The alleys of the city are in a deplorable condition. In some sections of the city they are almost impassable. Trash and debris have been thrown in many alleys until they are congested, and present a very unsightly appearance. And some of them have a very unpleasant odor, too.

Many are the citizens of Rushville who have heard with delight of the proposed federation of women's clubs, and they are agreed that it is a combination much to be desired.

Unfortunate Man Leaves Note:
"Would Rather Die Than Live in Hell Here."

The funeral services of John M. Beaver, who shot himself late Wednesday, were held at the home of Redding Bess, where he lived, this afternoon at two o'clock. Burial was in Glencove cemetery. Beaver was sixty-two years old. He was not related to the Beaver family in this county.

No motive is known for the rash act of the aged man, except as specified in the contents of a note found on his person by Dr. H. E. Hiatt, county coroner, who conducted an inquest. The note read as follows:

"What I do, I do because the way they treat me. I would rather die than live in hell here.

(Signed) "JOHN M. BEAVER." Beaver had been living with Bess and his wife since his separation from his family a few years ago. His wife and he had difficulties and they were divorced. His daughter remained with her mother.

His wife and daughter reside some place in Ohio, and it is understood that they have been trying to prevent the old man from getting control of about $1,000 in cash inherited by him through the death of another relative.

The aged man lived a precarious existence until a year and a half ago, when Mrs. Bess, taking pity on him, took him into her home and cared for him. Beaver seemed to appreciate Continued on page eight.

LESSON FOR APRIL 7.

EASTER LESSON.

LESSON TEXT—1 Cor. 15:1-11. GOLDEN TEXT—"This Jesus did God raise up, whereof we all are witnesses."—Acts 2:32.

St. Paul may not make direct reference to the virgin birth of our Lord, though he certainly knew of the prophecy that a "Virgin shall conceive," (Isa. 7:14), but what does it matter? It is not greater miracle to be born than to rise triumphant over death. That Paul assumes the fact is evident from this lesson. Literally he begins by saying, "Now I make known the gospel which I preached unto you at Corinth, whereby you are saved and what you must always remember, that Christ, who came fulfilling all that was promised in the Scripture, died for our sins and rose again." Paul goes on to tell explicitly of many who had seen Jesus after the resurrection and, most important of all, how he, himself, had seen the Christ.

"Last of all he was seen of me also. Though I am least of all the saints in that I persecuted the church, yet I am what I am, and his grace was not bestowed upon me in vain." Paul was not such a "bad man" from the accepted moral standards of his time, yet he felt the truth of what Christ said, viz., that the essence of sin is that "they believe not on me."

The fact of the resurrection of Jesus Christ is the best proven fact of history. In the first place the disciples themselves did not expect Jesus to die (John 12:34), hence, of course, they never even thought of the resurrection (Mark 9:10). In the third place when on that Easter morn Mary reported the empty tomb and of having seen the Lord, the apostles thought it "idle talk" (Luke 24:11).

GASES IN STOMACH POISON THE BLOOD

Gas forms in your stomach because the food you eat ferments and turns sour.

Allow this fermentation to go on and these gases become poisonous and the poison gets into the blood.

When the women reported having actually seen him, the men, and how many men like to take instruction from a woman, were unconvinced and rather doubted those who had conversed with him on the road to Emmaus.

Again, when seen by the ten, Thomas would not accept the report till he had seen his hands and his feet.

Arguments Based on Unbelief.

All arguments to convince us that Jesus did not rise are based upon unbelief and the answer of countless millions throughout nearly twenty centuries has been the words of Paul (verse 20) but "Now is Christ risen from the dead." To deny is to be lost in the fog, our preaching vain, and we have no ground of faith. See verses 12-14. To accept is to place a firm foundation underneath our whole Christian scheme, to set the seal of authority and purity upon the life of him whom all men, Jew and Gentile alike, say was good, and opens a vista of hope for all who die in the Lord.

Paul goes on to show that the resurrection of Jesus is the beginning of a plan whereby all the human race who are related to Christ shall likewise be resurrected. Even as through the transgression of one man sin came upon the whole human race, in like manner by the perfect life of obedience upon the part of one man we may all be made alive.

Paul makes a strong contrast between the death of the believer and that of the non-believer. "If I fight with beasts at Ephesus what advantage does that have? Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die." Not so, however, with the Christian, hence he exhorts the Christians to be awake to righteousness and to sin not.

Only Friends Saw Him.

For the younger classes this story of the first Easter is a most fascinating one, dramatic, tender, inspiring. For the older pupils we may well discuss, How Easter would be observed. Have we fully realized that we are "risen with Christ?" Remember he showed himself only to his friends, not to Pilate nor to the Sanhedrim. Are you his friend? Have you seen the risen Lord? A description of "Holy Fire" of the Greek Christians who gathered each with his taper in the church at Jerusalem on Easter Sabbath, and how each passes the fire on to another or carries it sacredly back to his home church, would be appropriate in order to illustrate the fact that each one of us must appropriate Christ in his resurrection power, and having appropriated his life we are in duty bound to pass on this knowledge to others. Paul showed his gratitude by "laboring more abundantly."

It might be well for us to draw attention to the fact that the communion service "shows forth his death till he come again," and baptism is symbolic of his death and resurrection (Rom. 6:4), wherein we are to walk in newness of life, and that at his coming again all enemies shall be subject to the Christ. That these are great truths we all know, yet "even the least" may have a part in telling the glorious Easter story and that we need not dwell at the cross but pass on and behold an empty tomb and worship a risen Christ who ever liveth and maketh intercessions for us.

TOPIC FOR APRIL 7.

The Kind of a Life We Shall Wish We Had Lived.—Luke 16:19-31.

The life worth living is the life that builds for the future. Painted canvas may do for the temporary scenery of a theater or pleasure resort, but we want something more substantial to live in. No wise man builds his dwelling house of paper mache. And no wise man, either, disregards eternal things to build a life based merely on temporary pleasures.

So many people lead plaster of paris lives, only to find after all is over that it does not pay. In the paper I read that a defaulter has surrendered to the authorities. The police had lost track of him, but he could not stand the torments of conscience. He planned his life for a day and his building is in ruins. A great movement has suffered and a score of lives lost because two men acted without considering the consequences. Under the influence of liquor, four boys commit murder, and regret, as the gallows awaits them, that they did not take account of the future in time.

If more stopped to think of the "morning after," the mayor of a great city would not plead as his excuse for permitting open saloons on Sunday that "the people want it."

A tomorrow somewhere is coming for each one of us. Whether it shall be a time of joy for work well done or of vain wishes that we had done otherwise, depends on how we spend today. If the kind of a life we shall wish we had lived is the kind we are trying, with God's help, to live today, the look backward at the end of the journey will not give us very much to be sorry for.

Next Week's Meeting.

Topic: How Can We Enrich Our Sabbaths?—Mark 2:23-28; 3:1-6. (Led by the pastor). Try to make this meeting practical, with definite suggestions for Sabbath observance. Assign this question for answer by a number: 'How can our society help others on the Sabbath?'

NERVOUS WOMAN

Lost Sleep and Appetite—Is Now Well and Strong.

If men only understood better how fearfully a woman's strength is taxed by her monotonous round of household duties, they would not be surprised at an occasional spell of "nerves."

When a woman is strong and well she does not know what it is to be nervous—it is only when she is weak that her nerves goes to pieces.

Mrs. M. A. Robinson, of West Grove, Pa., says: "I had a nervous trouble for some months, affecting both my appetite and my sleep. Soon after I began to take Vinol I felt ever so much better and now I am as well as ever. Vinol did me a lot of good."

Our advice to all nervous, run down women is—Take Vinol and regain your strength, then you will have no more nervous spells. This delicious cod liver and iron remedy without oil always agrees with the stomach, and it has made thousands of weak, discouraged, sickly women well and vigorous. One Governor's Mistake.

Governor Bass of New Hampshire, one of the eight governors who recently met by appointment in Chicago and passed a series of resolutions in which they modestly admitted that they, the eight governors, were the real and only voice of the people in the Republican party, evidently "reckoned without his host," when he pledged the New Hampshire delegation to the Republican national convention to be held in Chicago to the Colonel's candidacy. As soon as the Republicans of that Commonwealth learned of their governor's action they planned a monster mass convention to give expression to their sentiments. The convention was held in Concord on March 5th. Representative Republicans from all sections of the State were present and participated in its deliberations and the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"The electoral vote of this State has been cast for every Republican presidential candidate from 1856 to 1908 and the Republicans of New Hampshire have loyally sustained every administration since the birth of the party.

"In 1864, when criticism of Abraham Lincoln threatened his renomination, New Hampshire Republicans were the first to declare for the continuation of his leadership.

"Again, in 1872, when President Grant was assailed both within and without the party, New Hampshire Republicans led in the demand for the renomination of the hero of the civil war.

"We find no justification today for violating the precedent of the party which accords to a loyal, faithful and successful President a second nomination, therefore,

"Resolved, that we cordially endorse the administration of President Taft, an administration honest in its purposes, vigorous in its undertakings and successful in its accomplishments.

"Resolved, that President Taft, by his courage in the discharge of inherited obligations, his fidelity to Republican principles, his successful efforts to put these pledges into law, his defense of the constitution of the United States, his increasing aptitude for public service, the breadth of his statesmanship, and his unselfishness entitle him to a renomination, and we here pledge ourselves to use all honest endeavors to promote that result and to this end we have subordinated all local questions and past differences."

We Want Good Roads.

There is no function of public administration that has been so worthily performed as that relating to the care of our highways. There has been enough squandered on our highways in the last thirty years to build as fine and complete a system of highways as there is in France, the foremost good roads country of the world. Yet from year to year, we go on in the same rut, with but little to show for this vast expenditure.

The people very naturally object to heavy road taxes when the results are so unsatisfactory. One soon tires of pouring water into a rat-hole unless one can get the rat. Therefore, when any scheme for highway improvement of any magnitude is proposed, immediately there is a call to arms without waiting to consider whether or not the proposition is a wise one. It is presumed, and the prediction is made, that the taxation necessary to build good roads will be ruinous, that it will confiscate farm property. Whenever the project has been earnestly pursued, the progressives in most cases have finally won after a hard battle, and the road building has begun.

When the roads were built, and the people had the experience and benefit of using them, and paying for them, in every case the sentiment has changed and the people have begun clamoring for more roads. The men who at first opposed, have joined the ranks of the aggressive forces.

Women and Civic Work.

One of the greatest assets the department of a city's organization which attends to civic affairs can have is the co-operation of the women of the city. The Board of Trade of Massillon, Ohio, took a commendable stride in securing this co-operation recently when a committee of women representing the women's clubs of the city, was appointed as an auxiliary to the park and civic improvement committee of the board. Through the attention which the women's organizations give to civic affairs the scope of the board's work in that department is expected to be greatly increased.

The political manager, knowing that all his delegates were elected by the free and untrammelled voice of the sovereign people, and all the other fellows by the machinations of the wicked politicians, can claim that the god of battles is wearing his campaign button.

A newspaper has been suppressed in Mexico for revolutionist opinions, notwithstanding which we believe our old Presbyterian friend, "The Observer" ventures to keep on publishing in New York.

The government did not provide police protection would be called inefficient. The coal strike threatens to take fire away from the people, and the world had fires along before it had police.

It is inevitable that a new party should be formed as often as our law makers neglect to provide offices enough to go around.

Astonishing claims are being made by the political managers, but some remnants of the earth's surface are not yet fenced into their back yards.

Lewis, while walking across Main street in front of Lon Havens' grocery. He was knocked to the pavement and very seriously bruised. The accident was said to be unavoidable.

Rhythms of Fly-Days.

Susie attracted a little fly. Its creepers were loaded with germs. It followed her to dinner one day. And straightway crawled all over the garbage can and the kitchen sink. It stuck its proboscis into every object that could be penetrated and then investigated the dinner by tasting every bit on the menu. Not satisfied with that, it adjourned to a neighbor's house to follow the same program.

And, when she ate her dinner, Susie was unconcerned.

MUCH WORK BEING DONE ON ROADS NOW

Supervisors Take Advantage of Nice Weather to Smooth Surface and Make Traveling Better.

ROAD DRAG ON CITY STREETS

The presence of good weather has stimulated the interest in the roads of the county, as well as the streets of the city. For two days a road drag has been used to advantage on several streets of the city. Advantage was taken while the dirt was soft and the surface of the streets has been made smooth and level. The road drag does not dig more holes in the streets, but scrapes down the high places and fills up the holes with the surplus.

Wilk & Redman have been engaged in scraping and dragging country roads since the nice weather began. They repaired the New Salem pike so that it is much better than it has been for months. They were employed by the road superintendent of the district. They first harrowed the road and loosened up the surface, and then scraped and rolled it.

Road supervisors and superintendents all over the county have been up and doing in the last few days, according to the reports that are coming into Rushville. The road drag is coming into more general use each year as the best method of smoothing the surface of highways.

NO DECISION IS GIVEN BY MAYOR

Takes Evidence Under Advisement in Case Against Frank Risk and Will Give Verdict Later.

WHISKEY STOLEN, SAYS RISK

Clarence Kuhn, Prosecuting Witness, States he Paid $1.15 For Quart of "Number Seven."

Mayor Black, after hearing the case of the State vs. Frank Risk this afternoon, took the matter under advisement and will return his verdict next Monday afternoon. Risk was charged with having sold one quart of whiskey to Clarence Kuhn Saturday, March 23.

Kuhn, it will be remembered is the seventeen-year-old boy who was convicted in police court for stealing four pipes from the store of T. W. Betker. Kuhn was the prosecuting witness and the first one called by the State. He testified that he purchased the quart of whiskey, which was introduced as "Exhibit A" by the State, from Frank Risk at the McCormie saloon for $1.15. He stated that he bought four or five glasses of beer there before he purchased the whiskey.

The defense worked on the theory that Kuhn stole the whiskey. On cross examination he admitted that the bottle of whiskey was at the rear of the bar on a shelf. He denied that he stole it and also that he was refused a drink. Kuhn testified that he bought the bottle and took one drink from it, then left it at the saloon and called for it just before he was preparing to leave the city. On returning to the saloon he said Risk did not hand him the bottle, but that the other bartender did.

Policeman Wolter testified that he arrested Kuhn about 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon of March 23 as he was preparing to leave the city. The brand of whiskey which he found in Kuhn's buggy was "Number Seven" and the officer stated that upon investigation had found that McCormie's was the only place in the city where that particular brand was sold. Chief McAllister testified that Kuhn went with him to the McCormie saloon and pointed out Risk as the man who sold him the whiskey.

Frank Risk took the stand in his own defense and testified that he did not sell Kuhn the quart of whiskey as charged in the affidavit. Risk stated that he had refused to sell Kuhn a glass of beer because he did not think him of age. He said he found a quart of whiskey missing from the shelf and reported it to James McCormie, the proprietor of the saloon. Risk stated in answer to Mayor Black that the quart of whiskey on exhibition sold for $1.25.

John Kiplinger and Elmer Williams appeared for Risk and Dennis O'Neil and Gates Sexton represented the State. Mr. Kiplinger in his closing argument stated that Kuhn had told the story because of another criminal action pending against him and that the State had not proved that he had bought the whiskey.

HUGO MOFFETT RECOVERS.

Hugo Moffett, formerly of this city, who was injured while employed in a foundry in Cincinnati, where he now resides, is gradually recovering, according to his mother, Mrs. Minnie Moffett, who has been visiting here. John Moffett, who will be remembered by friends here, is taking a course in engineering in a Cincinnati school.

BUYS TWO COLTS.

Frank Lindsay of Raleigh bought two horses at the Fasig-Tipton horse sale at Indianapolis. One was a 4-year-old trotter with a record of 2:20 1/4, sired by Adstorm, and was consigned by the Whitely stock farm, at Muncie. Mr. Lindsay will race this animal the coming season. His other purchase was a yearling colt of the finest breeding, and a grandson of the great Binger, who sired Uhlman, with a mark better than two minutes. This colt was consigned by S. J. Fleming & Son, Terre Haute.

sing a solo, "Everybody's Doing it Now."

The Palace will show a Bison film entitled "The Chinese Smugglers" as the first picture tonight. The other film is a Reliance showing two subjects, "The Little Darkies" and "Rosanna's Dream." The first subject is a pictorial dramatization of the well known nursery rhyme, "Ten Little Niggers." "Rosanna's Dream" is a spectacular picture. Rosanna falls asleep while playing with the toy animals in the ark, and dreams that a fairy appears and endows them with life. Many peculiar and interesting little animals are shown and she plays with them fearlessly.

A New Back for an Old One. How it Can be Done in Rushville.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Rushville residents would do well to profit by the following example.

Mrs. Henry Fisher, 307 W. Hendricks street, Shelbyville, Ind., says: "I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills about three years ago. At that time I was suffering from kidney trouble and backache and I felt miserable in every way. I had often heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and I finally procured a supply. The contents of two or three boxes gave me relief and I had no further trouble until recently when my back began to ache. I at once used Doan's Kidney Pills and they relieved me as promptly as before. I have previously endorsed this remedy through the local papers and at this time I gladly confirm all I have previously said in its praise."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

HOME RULE BILL IS READY FOR ACTION

Will Be Introduced In Parliament
April 11.

London, April 5.—The home rule or Irish government bill, as it will be known officially, a draft of which has been completed, will be introduced on April 11. The differences between the ministry and the Irish Nationalists over the revenues to be raised have resulted in a compromise by which the customs excise will be collected by the imperial government, but the Irish parliament may vary these duties subject to the veto of the imperial parliament.

Under the provisions of the bill the Irish parliament is denied the right to impose a duty on British goods. Ireland will not contribute to the imperial revenues for a certain number of years.

It is understood that the Irish representation in the British parliament will be reduced to about forty. Part of the membership of the Irish senate will be nominated by the crown.

Help For Beleaguered City.

Jimenez, Mexico, April 5.—Defeated in his attack upon Parral, General Emilio Campa retreated to the Liberal base here, leaving only a small force near Parral, and these are now being driven back. General Telles's federal command from Torreon reached the beleaguered city before the rebel command could attack, and this brought the strength of the defending garrison up to nearly 2,000. They beat the rebels back with ease.

EASY AND SURE WAY TO CURE COLDS

Don't Neglect a Cold, Ely's Cream Balm Will Stop it in the Sneezing Stage.

A cold generally attacks the weakest part, affecting the eyes and ears in some and producing nasal catarrh and throat troubles in others. A cold is due to an inflammation of the membrane lining the air passages, and may be promptly cured with a little Ely's Cream Balm, which immediately relieves the inflammation and all the distressing symptoms, such as sneezing, coughing, running at the nose and eyes, hoarseness, sore throat, fever and headache. One reason why this pure, antiseptic Balm acts so quickly is because it is applied directly to the tender, sore surfaces.

Even in severe, chronic cases of catarrh, Ely's Cream Balm never fails to quickly and effectually check the poisonous discharge which clogs the head and throat, causing the disgusting hawking, spitting and blowing of the nose. This remedy not only drives out the disease, but heals and strengthens the weakened membranes, thus ending catarrh.

Catarrh is a filthy, disgusting disease. Don't put up with it another day. Get a 50-cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and see how quickly you will be relieved. It is perfectly harmless.

WOMEN CONFESS FORGING A WILL

Entered Pleas of Guilty In Grant Circuit Court.

THEIR IGNORANCE OF THE LAW

This Is Cited by Their Attorney in Extenuation of the Act of Mrs. Hossbauer and Mrs. Rickard, Who, Hoping, It Is Said, to Cut a Sister Out of Her Share of Deceased Aunt's Estate, Fixed Up a Will to Suit Themselves.

Marion, Ind., April 5.—Through their attorney Viola Hossbauer and Alice Rickard, both of Indianapolis, entered pleas of guilty in the Grant circuit court to the charge of forgery and uttering a forged will. The women were not in court, and until they can be present and make a statement no sentence will be pronounced. By agreement further proceedings were continued until the next term of court.

The pleas of the women were made in a confession that the will alleged to have been that of their aunt, Mrs. Miriam Miller of Point Isabel, Grant county, is a forgery. Mrs. Miller died Dec. 13, 1911. By the terms of the forged will, Mrs. Hossbauer and Mrs. Rickard were to get all the property owned by Mrs. Miller, valued at $10,000, and a sister, Marian Gerhardt, also of Indianapolis, was to receive nothing. The name of May Hacker of Grant county, was signed to this will as a witness, and she now has pending in the Marion county courts suit against Mrs. Hossbauer and Mrs. Rickard for $5,000 damages for alleged fraudulent use of her name. The attorney for the two women said that the acts of his two clients came, doubtless, on account of personal differences between the sisters and their ignorance of the law.

URGED TO ACT

County Chairmen Called on to Insure Full Registration.

Indianapolis, April 5.—There is considerable activity around both the Republican and Democratic state committee headquarters in preparation for the registration of voters. The first registration day will be May 9, the second Sept. 6, and the third Oct. 5. The fact that the registration law is a new thing in Indiana and that it will be tried out this year for the first time, is causing the organization officers of both parties to take special pains to see that everything starts off right.

The chairmen of both the state committees have sent letters to all county chairmen urging them to use strong efforts to register every voter in their counties. The county chairmen in each county are asked to notify the precinct committeemen and to see to it that the latter get the voters to the registration place. The importance of this is pointed out, because unless a voter is registered he will have no legal right to vote at the fall election.

Demands $20,000 Damages.

Logansport, Ind., April 5.—Frank Vance has filed suit for $20,000 against the Indiana Lighting company for the death of his wife and son, which occurred Feb. 15 last. Gas from broken street mains got into the Vance home through old service pipes and asphyxiated the mother and son. Nearly two dozen other families in the same vicinity were overcome by gas at the same time.

Wants Lawyer Disbarred.

Columbus, Ind., April 5.—Mrs. Mary H. Vawter, formerly an Indianapolis artist, who is now living in Brown county, has brought suit in the Bartholomew circuit court against George W. Long, state senator from Brown county, in which she seeks to have him disbarred from the practice of law for alleged misconduct of a suit in court in which she was interested.

Indiana Centennial Movement.

Indianapolis, April 5.—A meeting of the presidents and secretaries of Indiana state boards and the heads of a number of state organizations has been called for the evening of April 18, to be held at the Commercial club, when the question of the state uniting in a centennial exposition to commemorate Indiana's statehood birthday, will be considered.

They Lost Their Day.

Shelbyville, Ind., April 5.—The petition calling for a local option election to be held in Noble township, was to have been taken under consideration by the commissioners this week, but not one of the legal voters signing the petition appeared to swear that it was correct, as provided by law, and the petition was not considered.

Entertains Strange Delusion.

South Bend, Ind., April 5.—An insane fear that if he eats his breath will be cut off has caused Rudolph W. Larson to refuse to eat anything, and now after fasting nearly a week he is in danger of starving to death in the county infirmary.

Death From Rat Bite.

Frankfort, Ind., April 5.—Mrs. William Cohee of this city is dead of blood poisoning, which resulted from the bite of a rat.

DE PAUW'S PRESIDENT IS URGED FOR BISHOP

An Honor That Indiana Friends Deem Due.

Greencastle, Ind., April 5.—As the time for the meeting of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church draws near the name of Dr. Francis J. McConnell, president of De Pauw university, is prominently mentioned in connection with a bishopric. There has been a feeling among the Methodists of Indiana for many months that he would be a fitting man to fill one of the vacant bishoprics. Not only the Indiana Methodists, but Methodists throughout the country who have become acquainted with Dr. McConnell since his election to the presidency of De Pauw are mentioning him in connection with the election. Greencastle and De Pauw university people have about reconciled themselves to the belief that he will be honored by the general conference.

Dr. McConnell himself has made no statement regarding the matter. Personally he is not seeking the election, but it is believed his many friends recognize his ability, and will leave nothing undone toward his election as bishop this year.

JOSEPH H. CHOATE

Heads Movement of Lawyers Against Roosevelt Doctrines.

LAWYERS OPPOSE THE ROOSEVELT DOCTRINE

Recall of Judges Is Not to Their Liking

New York, April 5.—Persons interested in the Independent Judiciary association, which is being organized by Joseph H. Choate, General B. F. Tracy, William B. Hornblower, John G. Milburn, Senator Root and other distinguished lawyers to combat the doctrine of the recall of judges and of judicial decisions, are inclined to think that the new association, non-partisan as it is, will interest itself strongly in the re-election of President Taft. There is an impression that the Taft campaign will be the gainer by a number of extremely competent speakers.

All of the twenty-five lawyers who signed the appeal to the members of the bar are opposed to the course taken by Colonel Roosevelt, it was pointed out, and are in direct accord with Mr. Taft. It is likely that the association will delegate members to make public addresses which will attack Colonel Roosevelt's ideas and which will support Mr. Taft's. The association has not progressed far enough, it was said, to consider what its attitude would be toward a Democratic nominee for the presidency in opposition to the recall of judges and judicial decisions, but as things now stand the association is strongly behind Mr. Taft.

Convicted Forger Has a Long Record of Operations.

Logansport, Ind., April 5.—Harry C. Organ pleaded guilty in Cass circuit court to forgery, and was sentenced to two to fourteen years in the Michigan City prison. He was arrested in Logansport, March 11, 1911, on a charge of passing a forged check for $406.10, at the City National bank, Dec. 10, 1908.

Organ has been in the Cass county jail since, and warrants for his arrest are held by sheriffs from Decatur, Ind., Boone, Ia., and half a dozen other cities. He is sixty-one years old, and is one of the most noted forgers in the country. He has served time in a dozen different prisons.

Hickman, Ky., April 5.—Cupid rode in command of one gasoline launch from twelve miles below this flooded district. Twenty-three persons were aboard, having been gathered from a houseboat. When the rescuing craft deposited its party here, Ray Hall and Miss Jennie Griffin went to the courthouse and obtained a license to wed. Two hundred flood refugees witnessed the hurried wedding.

RUSH COUNTY MAN TELLS OF ADVENTURE IN CIVIL WAR

the age of eight years he moved with his parents to Rush county, which has been his home practically ever since. In the latter part of July, 1862, he enlisted in the civil war at Rushville, and was assigned to Company C, 16th Indiana infantry.

At that time troops were being rushed from all over the country to Cincinnati to protect the city from Kirby Smith, who it was thought was marching toward it with the intention of capturing it. Osborn was sent from Rushville to Indianapolis, and from there, with the rest of his regiment, he was sent to Cincinnati immediately. The boys of his regiment drew guns at midnight as they were marching to the train which was to carry them to Cincinnati. Many of them had never seen a gun before. Entirely undrilled, they were going into battle, it seemed, without knowing even how to load a weapon.

After they had arrived at Cincinnati, Osborn was among the troops who were rushed to Richmond, Ky., to head off the Confederate general, who was marching toward the Ohio city. Other troops were kept at Cincinnati for defense, where breastworks were thrown up, and every effort made to retain possession of the city. General Nelson was in command of the Union forces.

The battle that ensued when the green Northern soldier boys met Kirby near Richmond resulted in a complete defeat for the Union men. Kirby had four times as many men as did his opponents, and his men were practiced to some extent in the art of war, while the Northerners were not. Kirby captured all the members of the "game" 16th Indiana except thirty men. Then, desiring to go on to Cincinnati, Kirby paroled his prisoners. When Kirby, however, saw how well the city was defended, he did not attempt to capture it, but turned back.

Meanwhile the paroled prisoners made their escape. They went in a very roundabout way, so as not to meet the Confederate troops, and finally arrived at Maysville, Ky., on the Ohio river. Thence they took a boat across the river and returned home. After six weeks they were ordered to Camp Morton, Indianapolis, where they remained until they could be exchanged, since they were still prisoners of war until such exchange could be effected.

At length they received orders to move. They went to Cairo, Ill., boarded the fleet which opened up the Mississippi river and went down stream to the State of Mississippi. Here, at Arkansas post, they had a fight in which they took 2300 Confederate prisoners. Then they proceeded down the Mississippi to Young's Point, a few miles above Vicksburg, and remained there until March, 1863. A number of them, on account of disabilities, were sent back to Memphis on a hospital boat, and were placed in the Goso hospital.

After spending three weeks in the hospital, Osborn was discharged for disability, and was taken home by his father, the son then weighing eighty-seven pounds. His father contracted the fever as a result of the trip after his son, and afterward lost his life from it.

ASSESSMENTS WILL BE LESS THIS YEAR

Ravages of Hog Cholera Are Reflected in Returns Made to Assessors.

SHORT CORN CROP HELPS SOME

Cholera ravages among the hogs of the county and short crops last year, especially of corn, will greatly reduce the assessment returns from the country districts, according to reports that have been made to the county assessor, John F. Moses.

Many farmers lost all the hogs they had on their farms in the epidemic that swept over the country last winter. Ready money from the sales of hogs has always been depended on by Rush county farmers to assist them financially late in the winter and early spring. This year thousands of dollars, secured from this source, will not flow into the hands of farmers, and the loss will be reflected in the assessment returns. The short crop of corn last fall will also help diminish the assessment lists.

Despite the inclement weather since the first of March, the assessors have been working almost steadily through the country district of the county. They have been hampered to a great extent by the bad roads, but have visited a majority of taxpayers in their bailiwick already.

the kindness and frequently commented upon the excellent treatment accorded him by Bess and his wife. He seemed particularly fond of them.

A year ago Beaver inherited an estate of a relative. He realized quite a sum, with which he purchased a farm of forty acres, which in turn he deeded to Mrs. Bess on the consideration that she should care for him during the rest of his life and give him a proper and decent burial.

Wednesday morning he assisted Bess with his work about the stable and later appeared at the house and told Mrs. Bess that he was going to Knightstown. Shortly before noon he put in his appearance again and again started away. Mrs. Bess asked him where he was going and he stated that if he had to be operated upon he might as well kill himself as he would die under the operation. He suffered, it is said, from a slight ailment which would require a minor operation to correct.

Beaver went into an outhouse, where he shot himself with the shotgun. He accomplished his suicide by placing the muzzle of the gun against his bare breast and pushing the trigger with a piece of a buggy tire. He had previously tried to manipulate the trigger by the means of strings.

Bess, who was in the barn at the farm at the time, heard the report of the gun. He rushed to the outhouse and found Beaver lying across a bed dead. The farmer notified the neighbors of the tragedy and also the authorities at Knightstown.

Beaver is survived by his divorced wife, who lives in Knightstown and by one daughter. He was to shortly receive an additional sum of money from another relative's estate.

VOTE TO ABIDE BY HOBBLE RULING

hope that with a better understanding of the matter the North Vernon action would be reversed.

All were heartily in favor of the restriction of hobbles. They hope that within a few years they may be done away with entirely. They claim that nine out of ten of the accidents of the racing game have been caused by the presence of hobbles. They believe that their elimination would make the sport cleaner, more attractive and much less dangerous, both for horse and driver.

Mr. Knight urges that the American Trotting Association be upheld in this matter. He stated that the use of hobbles was more prevalent in this section of the country than elsewhere and that most of the opposition to the new rule came from this State and Ohio. In other sections of the country the hobble rule has met with approval.

Mr. Downing believes that the county fair bodies stand between the race-loving public and the trainers and owners of horses, and that because of this position the question should be considered from both angles. The public wants the sport to be clean and safe. The horse owner is willing to use any harness contrivance which will help the horse increase his speed. The speaker thought that when the trainer quits using hobbles for a few years he would not be willing to resume their use.

There were about 30 members of the Southeastern Indiana Fair Association present at the meeting in Greensburg, each county fair in the district being represented.
